PUBLIC MEETING.

On Tuesday evening in Robertson Hall, Premier Haultain and J. H. Ross, commissioner of public works and agriculture in the Northwest government, addressed a well attended public meeting and gave clear, concise and interesting statements of the formation, growth and present powers of the Territorial government. The chair was occupied by Mayor Edmonston and besides the speakers, there were on the platform Messrs. McCauley and Maloney, M. L. A. C. Gallagher, President of the board of trade, and Conn. Picard.

Premier Haultain, after a few introductory remarks, said that the purpose of the meeting was merely that he and his colleague Mr. Ross, might explain how they had done the business of the Territories—that is the business of the people—at Regina. It was not called in the interests of any candidate present or to come, either for the legislative assembly or the Dominion government, but solely for the purpose of explaining "How we have done your business." He said: In answer to a question which was put to me last night, "What are you here for?" I would refer to the words of Mr. Sifton on introducing a bill into the house of commons last session, when he said: "The effect of this bill is to give to the people of the Territories a government with larger powers." The bill was to give to them larger powers and we are here to give you some account of the stewardship that was entrusted to us last October. It would be interesting and instructive to review with you the history of the Territories, but the story would be too long, and I do not feel it altogether necessary to go into that question for during the early days of the Territories, when the hardest fights for our rights were fought, you were represented in our assembly by able men and strong champions of the right.

Eleven years ago the Territories were simply in the position of crown colonies, that is to say, the business of the government was practically done by the lieutenant-governor. In a year or so demands were made at Ottawa to introduce gradually a more responsible system of government. Concessions were made, but the full powers asked for were not given, and these concessions were therefore not altogether satisfactory, inasmuch as they did not give those full rights which we as Britishers considered as our birthright. Eventually, however, larger powers were given and we now have what is tantamount to a responsible government. We stand as a province to-day. The general result was the transference of powers from the lieutenant-governor to the assembly, or some one responsible to the assembly, and so we have gradually merged into the position of a self governing province. We now have powers to legislate in local matters and things concerning the every day life and rights of the people of the Territories. We have jurisdiction over schools, public works, such as roads and bridges, and many other matters which I need not enumerate as I think you are fairly well aware what our ordinances cover. In a general way we have the same powers as a provincial legislature. It is no small field which our legislation covers and as the duties become larger the necessity of choosing well your representatives becomes more apparent. You have but to elect the men and the quality and ability of the legislature will make itself.

We have come to give you an account of our stewardship and I will quote to you a few figures showing the increase in Territorial revenue from 1883 to 1898. In 1883 the total amount of the Dominion government vote for expenses of government in the Northwest Territories was $20,000, our local income from other sources was $1,000 making a total income for 1883 of $21,000. In 1898 the federal vote alone was $300,000 and our income from other sources $200,000 and this without recourse to any such expedient as direct taxation, which I understand, is very unpopular in Northern Alberta.

There is another side which will show the amount we are spending and whether we are spending it well or not. During the past year we paid out $140,000 for schools, $196,000 for public works, $21,500 for agriculture and $10,000 for hospitals. There is not much waste on the machine. The people get the value. In the case of public works, for every dollar voted, ninety-six cents goes into improvements; the same with regard to the agricultural vote, and the same with hospitals. During the past year the expenditure on these four items was nearly $370,000.

Regarding our schools and school system. We have asked $140,000 for the purpose of carrying on our school business. We have now 531 schools in the Territories. In 1883 and '84 there were no schools, that is none under any statutory system. In 1886 the whole amount of money voted for schools was $8,900. In 1896 we have voted over $140,000 which will be a very fair indication of the enormous increase of our school system. The purpose of our present schools is to give a good, practical education. We are not going very fast nor very far ahead, but working on the basis that "sufficient unto the day is the institution thereof." We are trying to give a good practical education to the children. So far we have been able to avoid those delicate situations arising out of school systems, which have occurred in other provinces, and to-day we have a system where the petty differences of race, sect or religion are forgotten and all are joined in a common citizenship. Such a system is the aim and desire of the government of which I have the honor to be a member. The grade of our teachers is improving. We have a larger percentage of high class teachers than Ontario. In Ontario 50% of the teachers hold 3rd class certificates. In the Territories only 18% are 3rd, the other 82% hold 1st or 2nd class certificates. Forty-five % of the pupils are in standard I, 20% in standard II and 20% in standard III. This year there were more new schools established than in any one year for the past four or five; a number of schools were also re-opened; the attendance has increased twice as much and the number of teachers doubled.

A result of the forming of a responsible Territorial government at Regina was the establishment of a public works department by which the money voted for public works could be divided at the discretion of the commissioner in charge of that department. It was owing to the existence of this department that the appropriation could be made last winter for the opening of the Slave lake trail. Under the old system, where a member came home and had, practically if not literally, $2,000 or $3,000 in his pocket and was immediately besieged by constituents clamoring for a portion to be expended in their several districts, these appropriations of a large amount in one place would have been impossible. Under the present system the government's policy is to spend money and do work wherever it is needed, without regard to electoral divisions. The working of the statute labor districts has been found to be in every way highly satisfactory. There are more statute labor (now "local improvement") districts in Northern Alberta than in any other part of the Territories. There are in the Territories 400 districts in existence now and these do from $60,000 to $80,000 worth of work, thus taking that amount off the hands of this government.

Another branch taken up by the government has been agriculture. We, as a government, have tried to a certain extent and in accordance with our means, to keep abreast of the times. Our growth has been gradual. We have not attempted to branch out into larger and more expensive schemes. Our agriculture system has just been inaugurated. It is small, but in keeping with our conditions. Our system will be to establish small experimental stations in some parts of the Territories and in encouraging the importation of thoroughbred animals into the Territories. In our experimental stations we will experiment with the best seed grains and plants. We will have a small station in the north. I will not promise that the station will be in Edmonton, but I can say that the agricultural resources of the district make it necessary for us to establish a station in Northern Alberta.

In the range country stock has deteriorated greatly. Instead of Canadian beef netting more money, as it did a few years ago, in the English market, the American beef commands a much higher figure. The present range animal is not the same as the splendid animal introduced in the early days of ranching. In view of these circumstances arrangements have been made by which the best animals can be procured in the east at a cost of $20 or $25 and $5 per head for transportation.

Another thing the government has taken up is the growth of noxious weeds. The farmer of the west may think he is safe, but he is not. The weed is taking Horace Greeley's advice and coming west to grow up with the country. In order to prevent as much as possible its further development the department have issued a noxious weed bulletin, describing those weeds and advising as to the best means for their extermination. This bulletin will be made use of in the schools so that all the young farmers, and the young farmers' wives, will know these weeds when they see them.

We have decided to minimize the trouble and expense of the consolidation of the ordinances by putting the whole of our legal legislation in one volume, where it can be easily found. We will have the work completed and issued by Christmas.

Our coal mining law will be administered capably, and we will see to the safety of the men employed in the mines.

In all things we have tried to keep up with the growth of the Territories. That has been the distinguishing feature of our legislation. It has always been our policy to stand up for the rights of the people of the Territories even as we have stood up for our own rights as against the older provinces. We have made rapid steps towards responsible government and have decided to go on for a time as we are, before taking the provincial jump. We have been criticised for our lack of brilliant exploits of financial speculation. To that I have to say that we are not here for speculation, but as men interested in a practical work for a practical people. If we can show that our work is practical we will go far towards commanding the respect of the public. Our work deals with a practical work, not theories or academic experiments.

One of the greatest hindrances to settlement in this country is the amount of land which is exempt from taxation. There are millions of acres of land reserved for companies which have never built one single mile of railway. Then by some peculiar means—jugglery, I call it—these companies avoid payment of taxes. If a settler goes into the land office to locate one of these parcels of land he is told, "That is not open for entry; it is in the hands of the railway company." Then when the tax collector goes to collect his taxes from the railway company he is told that the land is yet in the name of the crown. Thus the settler doesn't get the land and the school district doesn't get the taxes. We have been struggling long to have this evil remedied and I may say for your information that the minister of railways has agreed to make these companies take up and locate their lands, and I might say he cannot do it too quickly.

We have been twitted for being a government without a policy. We have a policy and it is an immigration policy though not one that favors going into the high-ways and by-ways of Europe and inducing men to come among us. We have no such policy, but we believe that the natural advantages of the Territories will be enough to attract settlers when those advantages are known. If we can give them good roads, good bridges, good schools and good laws, if we can make the conditions of life easy for those that are here, then every man in the country will be an immigration agent and the best immigration agent the country could have.

Regarding formation of provinces, I believe the Territories could be governed just (Continued on third page.)

PUBLIC MEETING.
as conveniently as one province as it could be divided. The question is whether we are in a position or will be in a position to take the step and become a province. I believe we will be. I believe a province can be just as well and just as cheaply, and just as efficiently governed as a Territory. Then believe the greatest benefit of direct taxation will be avoided. I believe in Alberta autonomy, but when we are at it why not have the whole thing, we could have one province and then we would have the largest province since confederation. As the election is coming on time between this and spring, we will then take up the question of provincial autonomy.

One thing over which we have cause to be thankful is that federal politics are not introduced into our assembly. We have our own work to do and we do it without being either grits or Tories. In the case of myself and my colleagues, Mr. Ross, I have the reputation, at least in some districts, of being a good conservative and I am a good conservative; he is an equally staunch liberal, yet for the past 11 years we have worked together without a single dispute and it seems to me it would be the very height of folly for me to say "Well, Ross, you have been a good and faithful friend and colleague of mine and we have worked well together, but you are a grit and I am a Tory, so we will have to part." I should be sorry to take such a step and I should be very sorry to have to appear before any constituency and ask them to elect me after taking such a step. Let the party line develop when the needs of the country require it, but until then let us do our work without introducing these foreign names, foreign fights and foreign animosities, and the longer it is delayed the better it will be for the Territories (cheers and continued applause). I hope I have been able to show you that the Northwest assembly is a practical body having ever in view the best interests of the Territories, and that we have been able to carry on the work in a business like way. We are simply not Liberals or Tories; merely Nor-Westers, only men.

Mr. Ross on rising to speak was greeted with applause and said: Mr. Haultain has gone over the matter of our constitutional growth. For 15 years I have been a member of the old council and the assembly. He has outlined to you the growth and enlargement of our grants. I will state that in '97 we received what we had asked for, responsible government. The government was formed in October last when we organized departments and to me was allotted the task of the work and agriculture. In 1884 when the first financial statement was brought down we had a very magnificent sum of money to spend on public works, about $400 in each district. Some of these districts were as large as provinces in the east, are to-day and naturally each member, after using his grant, could see room for more, and $1400 or $24,000 might have been profitably expended on public works. The grants grew, however, until we had from $3,000 to $34,000 to expend and the districts were much smaller. When the department was formed we decided on a policy which was to expend the money where it was most needed, not according to the number of voters it contained. Our policy has been to erect permanent public works. By this means we were able to erect a superstructure of steel over the high river. In the east we are trying to improve the water supply. We have had surveys made and are trying, as far as our money will allow, to reserve the water. In the southwest we are erecting bridges—too much water. By statute labor a vast amount of work has been done, amounting to from $45,000 to $54,000. From 17,000 to 18,000 miles of road have been built. This will relieve the government from making small improvements and will enable them to do the permanent work of which I speak. We do not wish to take any credit for opening up this north country. As far back as '94 and since then, petitions have been received asking for the opening up of the route between here and Peace river. Now having commenced the work we will see that it is completed and that you have a good road between here and Peace river.

The three departments which received the largest expenditures are, public works, agriculture and schools. We have so far been able to expend these amounts irrespective of grit or Tory. The least to enter receives the work. The candidate who seeks election on party lines shows that he is weak in himself. When a man seeks to introduce party lines he is not looking for practical business, but merely that he may be able to pick up some crumbs that fall from the table and I can assure you that there are many who are only too anxious to see party lines drawn in the Northwest government that they may get after the crumbs. The people as a whole are not in favor of party lines being drawn in the Territories. Ours has been called a coalition government, because one is Tory and the other grit. There will be opposition in the assembly at some period, but it will come on local lines. I have been in the assembly for 15 years and I have never yet known a question to be disputed on Dominion party lines. The man who would try to do so, be he grit or Tory, would find himself alone in the house.

We have expended some $30,000 in public works during the past year. We have been able to open up the 14th base line to Stony Plain and we are now opening a road to Beaver lake. Out of $190,000 expended in the public works department $165,000, goes straight into public works throughout the country. During this year there has been expended $100,000 of the $300,000 in public works. The fact there was an expenditure on Peace river has not militated against appropriations in other districts. In Southern Alberta we spent $12,000 in one district there and it is to the credit of the members of the east that not one protest was entered.

There are 28 coal mines throughout the country. We have found in Edmonton a very efficient inspector of mines who will inspect the mines from the Souris to the coast. The government has seen fit to manage its grants to hospitals and charities. This year we gave some $10,000 towards these matters.

We had a heavy duty when we tackled the brand question. But our brand system has now been endorsed by the stock associations in the south. We straightened out from 3,000 to 4,000 cases in three months, and during 10 weeks we answered 8,000 letters on the subject. We have now undertaken the adjustment of horse brands.

The speaker then explained at some length the arrangement arrived at regarding importation of thoroughbred stock, already referred to, and continuing took up the subject of the Yukon, saying: You are all aware that some difficulty arose between the Ottawa and home authorities as to which had jurisdiction in the Yukon. The Dominion government tried to exert their authority before getting the legislation. We sent a license commissioner into the country and you will be pleased to know the revenue of the Territories did not suffer as a consequence. The license fee was fixed at $2,000. Fifty thousand or sixty thousand gallons of liquor were allowed to go into the country and the Territories made $122,000 out of it.

Regarding redistribution of constituencies. We have been charged with jerry-mandering. To jerry-mander intelligently we would require to know the number of voters in every constituency and we have not yet arrived at this stage. We considered that increased representation was necessary and so formed an additional district. We are not tinkering with legislation. All this government asks is to be judged by its works. If you believe in our policies regarding public works, local improvements, schools, agriculture, thoroughbred stock, and experimental farms, then we ask you to vote the men who put themselves in the position of candidates before you, to outline their positions and if they support the government, to support them.

In closing I will simply say that as regards immigration no policy is necessary. This park country is an open invitation to the world to come and stay with you. You have coal, you have timber, you have hay, you have the garden of the Northwest Territories.

The speaker resumed his chair amid prolonged applause and on passing the usual vote of thanks, moved by M. McCauley, M. L. A., the meeting adjourned.

THOROUGHBREED STOCK.

During the recent session of the legislative assembly, an item of $3,000 was voted towards encouraging the importation of thoroughbred stock into the Territories. It was felt that very little progress had been made by Northwest breeders of late years in the way of improving the quality of their cattle and that public money could be advantageously expended upon any scheme having such improvement in view.

The Dominion cattle breeders' association, working hand in hand with the Ontario government for the promotion of inter-provincial trade, devised a scheme some years ago whereby single heads of pure bred stock could be shipped from Ontario points to the west, on the co-operation plan. Orders for transportation of stock were solicited by that association and as soon as a sufficient number of applications were on hand to make up a car-load, a man was secured to gather the stock in Ontario and to accompany the shipment to the west and distribute the same at the various destinations. Unfortunately this arrangement was not widely enough advertised, and was almost unknown to western breeders, in any event owing to shunting charges, the necessity of chartering the whole car for the farthest point, local rates on branch lines, etc., the expense was often in spite of very liberal car-load rates, almost prohibitive. The department of agriculture at Regina has now arranged to superintend the whole of the Territorial organization of this scheme, collect orders and arrange car-load shipments of such stock for central points and, if possible, a train load shipment for the Territories. In this manner it will be possible to make the most economical arrangements, and it is hoped to reduce the average cost of landing very materially. In addition to undertaking the delivery of this stock in the west, it is proposed to pay a bonus to shippers sufficient to reduce the total cost of care and transportation to any point in the Territories to a uniform rate of $5 per head. This will involve an average government grant of $10 to $12 on each head of stock imported under departmental supervision. Parties availing themselves of this offer will have to make their own arrangements in the east through friends or otherwise regarding the purchase of their stock, which must be delivered at a convenient point on any C. P. R. line in Ontario.

.. OUR FALL OPENING ..

Was a grand success, and we had a full house. The people came, they saw, and they were captivated. It was a genuine surprise to everyone to see the magnificent range of goods that were shown for the Fall and Winter trade. Every department was full to overflowing and each seemed to offer special inducement to buyers.

The stock of Dress Goods shown is very large and much superior to the ordinary, and the lady would be very hard indeed to please that could not find something to suit, and something new, as among the better lines no two dress pieces alike. Trimmings of all kinds to match.

The Mantle Cloths also commended themselves to our many visitors.

The large display of Ladies' Felt Hats, Tam O'Shanter, Fancy Wool Hoods, Clouds, Scarf Ties, Eiderdown Cloth and Fur Jackets, Underskirts, Wrappers, Dressing Gowns and Underwear. Fall Blouses and Shirt Waists in Flannelette, Cashmere and Silk. Muffs, Neckruffs, Corsets, Veilings, Ribbons, Gloves, Hosiery and the hundred and one other articles and nick-nacks that go to beautify the home and adorn the person; all those and much more won the admiration of the throng of visitors, and, as was remarked by many, reminded one more of Simpson's or Eaton's than Edmonton. But Edmonton is forging ahead, and we are leading.

The Men's Department is equally as interesting as the ladies', and the stock is large and new.

We secure the very best of values for our customers and they at all times get the benefit. The larger the business the cheaper the prices.

TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

The second annual convention of the Edmonton district educational association was held in the South Edmonton school on Thursday and Friday last. About fifty teachers were in attendance. On Thursday morning the proceedings were opened by a paper on "The teacher's preparation for his work," read by John McVicar of Angus Ridge, which was followed by a discussion on educational legislation, led by J. T. J. Collision of St. Leon school district. In the afternoon some rural school problems were discussed by Insp. Calder, B. A. The evening session, held at 8 o'clock, was devoted to the general business of the association, after which lunch was served and a pleasant evening of social intercourse passed.

Friday morning was occupied by the reading of a paper on "Writing with a Standard I class" by John M. Moran of Josephburg school district, and a discussion on the geographical and historical value of mountains, by G. J. Bryan, B. A., of Edmonton. In the afternoon "Grammatical Analysis" and "How to deal with foreign pupils" were dealt with respectively by E. Richardson of East Edmonton and W. E. Bartlett of Mill Creek school district. Generally the papers read were of exceptional merit. Several resolutions and recommendations arising out of the discussions and tending to the further improvement of the educational system, were made and forwarded to the Territorial government for their consideration.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year, and the convention then adjourned: president, G. J. Bryan, B. A., Edmonton; sec-treasurer, Miss Osborne, Edmonton.

GENTLEMEN:—

A number of the electors of the district of Victoria having requested me to offer as a candidate in the election for a representative in the Legislative Assembly of the Territories to be held very soon, I announce my consent to do so and hereby solicit the support of each voter in the constituency.
